POLICY FOR ADMISSIBILITY TO ABPS EXAMINATIONS

(Approved 2012 – Revised 5-18, 5-19)

ABPS certification must be achieved within eight years after successful completion of plastic surgery residency training.

INTRODUCTION:

The American Board of Medical Specialties (ABMS) approved an eligibility policy effective January 1, 2012, which sets limits for attaining board certification after residency completion. Member boards must limit the period of time that may lapse between the completion of an ACGME or RCPSC accredited residency program and attainment of board certification to no more than seven years plus any time in practice required for admission to the certifying examination. January 1, 2019 is the outer limit set by ABMS for candidates who completed plastic surgery in 2010 or earlier to obtain certification. The ABPS, in accordance with the ABMS Eligibility Policy, will initiate the following policy for surgeons seeking certification in plastic surgery:

ABPS candidates must complete the certification process within eight years of the conclusion of residency. This allows for the practice requirement of one year which is necessary to collect and submit cases for the Oral Examination. Time spent in fellowship training will count against the eight year limit.

Candidates who completed training in 2010 or earlier, must become certified by successfully completing the Oral Examination by November 2018 to meet the January 1, 2019 ABMS Policy deadline. On that date, the transition for the policy will be in full effect and applicable to all candidates for certification by The American Board of Plastic Surgery, Inc.

Reapplication requirements are required at the end of the first five years of admissibility, if the Written and Oral Examinations are not successfully completed. Candidates are advised to utilize every opportunity (i.e. examination administration years) to complete the certification examinations. That focus will help candidates avoid reaching the maximum admissibility limits and being subject to the additional reapplication requirements after five years of admissibility has expired. More rigorous requirements for the Extended Admissibility Application must be met after eight years is exhausted in the examination process.

Refer to the ABPS Advertising Policy outlining the use of the term “board eligible” during the admissibility period.

Subspecialty Certification Admissibility Policy

Effective January 1, 2018, the ABMS requires certification in subspecialty within 7 years following completion of subspecialty training. ABPS requested and received exemption of 9 years due to practice and case log requirements. Candidates who completed subspecialty training prior to January 1, 2018 who have not yet achieved subspecialty certification must do so by January 1, 2025.

Notice to Candidates on Re-Entry to Surgical Practice

Candidates who desire entry into the certification process

Candidates who are eligible or who are applying to the certification examination process must inform the Board if they are not actively practicing plastic surgery or if there is a gap in active practice for any period of time. For those who are clinically inactive for two or more years, the Re-Entry Program Elements will apply.

Please refer to the Re-Entry to Surgical Practice policy which can be found on the Board's website www.abplasticsurgery.org, under the About Us tab – Policies.
